About this piece

A design that has truly stood the test of time, the 675 chair is one of the most recognised of the 20th century and in 2015 was awarded the prestigious Design Guild Mark Award. Originally created in 1952. Pioneering at the time, Robin Day overcame the difficulty of forming a single molded plywood chair with armrests, by creating a bent shape using a singular curve rather than the obvious double curve. H 31", W 25", D 18".
