About this piece

Lampshade in frosted glass, aligned to the Arts and Crafts movement (1880–1910), c.1900. The tall bell body rises to a neat gallery opening and descends to a subtly flared rim that softens the silhouette. The satin frosting diffuses glare and gives an even pool of light suitable for entrance halls, parlours and bedroom fittings of the period. A practical, restrained shade.

Diameter for the gallery or the lampshade hole: 3cm/1.18" Inches.
