About this piece

Arthur Heygate Mackmurdo (1851-1942). Made by E. Goodall and Company. A rare early Art Nouveau Satinwood side table made for Pownall Hall, Cheshire. Mackmurdo's influence in Europe is recognised as having produced the earliest examples of Art Nouveau, particularly in the styling of a chair-back designed in 1882, and the title page for Wren's City Churches a year later. Macmurdo is credited with predicting and inspiring the continental Art Nouveau style.
