About this piece

Bath cabinet makers

In the Liberty style. An early Arts & Crafts oak break front sideboard with Dutch inlaid scenes of mill owners with their little black cat in the two upper cupboard doors, to the lower cupboards on his horse and a sailing scene.

Of angular break front form with a flaring cornice supported with diamond edged sculptural carved uprights, an open upper full length shelf, and two wide central open shelves with a finished panelled back with two drawers below with hammered brass back plates and large ring pull handles.

With three compartmented open display areas to the base with a sweeping arch to the central open dog kennel and a wonderful array of exposed through tenon details to the sides. All stood on raised sledge feet.
