About this piece

Bruce Talbert

A set of eight English Aesthetic Movement Walnut dining chairs, the backs with a subtle curvature (making them very comfortable). With feather carved details to the uprights, and incised tramline details each with a row of five turnings above the upholstered seat.

Standing on ring turned and writhen front legs, united by finely turned and incised H stretchers. Professionally reupholstered in calico so they are ready for the final covering of your choice.

We also have a close matching pair which have gilded highlights that could make up a set of ten, if required, see link:
