

C. R. Ashbee made at the Guild of Handicraft. An Arts and Crafts oak sideboard with flaring cornice

C. R. Ashbee made at the Guild of Handicraft. An Arts and Crafts oak sideboard with flaring cornice

Ref: PV003709

Price on Application

MAKER	Guild of Handicraft
DESIGNER	Charles Robert Ashbee
YEAR	1905
ORIGIN	United Kingdom
DIMENSIONS	H: 74.02 in (188 cm) W: 62.99 in (160 cm) D: 20.87 in (53 cm)
CONDITION	Good

About this piece

C. R. Ashbee made at the Guild of Handicraft. An Arts and Crafts oak sideboard with flaring cornice and display and plate rack shelves below flanked by elongated cupboards to each side and four drawers below, the base breaks forward with a large worktop and a further cupboard to the left and two large drawers below, stood on six legs united by a lower open shelf on ball feet. Each copper drop handle including the keyholes on the doors are surrounded with fine boxwood inlays.

Bottom

Height 92 cm

Width 160 cm

Depth 53 cm

Top

Height 96 cm

Width 169 cm

Depth 33 cm

Together

Height 188 cm

Width 160 cm

Depth 53 cm