About this piece

A Heals and Sons oak Torchere/plant stand with exposed biscuit joints to the top and square legs. Although unmarked this came from Overstrand Hall in North Norfolk a magnificent house built in the true Arts and Crafts style designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens and built between 1899 and 1901. It was turned into a convalescent home in the early 1930's and furnished by Heals.

Circa 1930's.
