About this piece

Liberty & Co., attributed

An English Arts & Crafts oak sideboard, with an open upper shelf flanked by stylized carved floral decoration running down each side of the central beveled mirror, which is set slightly back behind a fully arched cover with little half-moon display shelves to each side with turned finials to the fronts.

The generous work area features twin drawers and brass ring pull handles with floral decoration to the centers, and a twin cavernous cupboard below opening to reveal a long shelf, with fielded central panels to the doors with stylized brass hinges.

Further stylized carved floral decoration runs down each side of the angular base, which stands on six square legs with sweeping arched details to the back on capped feet.
