About this piece

Morris and Co. A rare and exceptional, museum quality ebonised Sussex three seat settee. This is by far the very best example of this type of Sussex settee I have ever seen. And I dare to say probably to ever come onto the market. They were made in very small numbers and extremely rare to find in today's market. The condition is outstanding, no restorations in it's life and all of the joints are still as tight as when it was made, retaining it's original fine rush seat which is a joy to see, including all of it's original protector strips around the rush seat.
